"I wanted to take the opportunity to personally thank you for the outstanding contribution you made to our 2001 Conference - Raising the Bar. I have had tremendous feedback from many specifically on your workshop, with delegates' comments ranging from brilliant, outstanding and excellent: to inspiring, unbelievable and the best".

Mike Green, Managing Director, Harcourts

"Debbie, delighted to be an emailable reference for you. More than happy to wax poetic re your cheerful yet professional manner, interesting content and excellent presentation style".

Phil Campbell, Project Director, Marcus Evans

"We employed Debbie to present to a key group of financial advisers recently. Our objective was to provide these advisers, most of whom actively support us with a strong value add for their businesses. We've had a relationship with Debbie for some time, and we have been very pleased with the value she's added to our business through the effective use of e-mail".

James Turnbull, Manager, Macquarie Investment Management

"Debbie's presentation was the highlight of the weekend, and this was reinforced by the hugely positive feedback we had from the participants. As well as providing real business value to those in attendance, this was a very successful exercise for us, which I would willingly repeat.

I found your Internet Marketing presentation extremely beneficial and motivating. Having now implemented some of your suggestions and marketing ideas we are starting to see the result in increased client contact. There has been a significant level of new client business like we have not experienced in the past. The new tools I have taken from your presentation are effective, easy to use and time efficient".

Rob Newby-Fraser: Managing Director, Fraserwood & Co
