What an opening to our conference. In just 25 minutes you informed, excited and mesmerised, and your set the tone for the next two days. The state Government is now considering running this conference with us every year, and I think you should take much of the credit for this happy outcome.

I want to congratulate you on an excellent presentation. My wife and I were impressed with your philosophy on both business and life. As an aside, I believe your presentation probably did more for Australia in this region than any number of trade shows.
